HRMS

<https://tgpayroll.cgg.gov.in/>

Human Resource Management System (HRMS) is the IT enablement of HRM function. HR function covers broad range of functions that enables to track innumerable data of employees from personal profile, employment history, and employee benefits to payroll records. It has become essential to automate these administrative functions in the organization for efficient and effective management of Human resources and also to reduce the manual workload. The modules that are addressed in HRIS are

- 1) HR management and
- 2) Payroll.

HR Management module covers all the administrative functions of the HR department like maintaining the information related to service records, transfers & promotions of employees, disciplinary cases, annual property returns and retirement benefits. The employee self-service (ESS) will give access to all the employees to access self-information required like Pay slips for the selected period, leave particulars, etc. Also, the Manager Self Service (MSS) will enable the reviewing authorities to monitor various aspects of the departments and also to communicate with the departments. Payroll module addresses the generation of the electronic pay bills by capturing the data of employee pay scale, deductions, loans & advances, attendance and leaves.
